

We Remember

God of our yesteryears, you unfold before us the pages of history reminding us of the many great and simple women who dared to venture forth, to speak out and to labor to meet the needs wherever they arose, whatever the cost. Courageously, they fulfilled Moreau’s dreams and the mission of Holy Cross. Our hearts swell with pride when we reflect on our heritage.

We are gathered here today to remember our sisters who have journeyed with us in life and who have preceded us in death. Rooted in Christ through Holy Cross, they have sown seeds through their lives, their ministries, and through their legacies. And we remember...

SUNG

*We remember how you loved us to your death, and still we celebrate, for you are with us here;
and we believe that we will see you when you come,
in your glory, Lord,
we remember, we celebrate, we believe.*

We acknowledge the pains of daily separations that are the counterpoint in our common lives and we remember:

*“Missionary by her state in life”,
the sister of Holy Cross lives in a spirit of service which,
up to death and even in death, spurs her on to “do everything for the glory of God and the furthering of God’s Kingdom”.*
